Naisoso Island revolutionises resort management, construction

The country's newest five-star residential and resort enclave, Naisoso Island, now offers a service that will set the benchmark for resort management and construction in Fiji.

The recently appointed residential management team for Naisoso Island is a multi-faceted family-based company that offers a range of services under the one banner.

The Naisoso Island Residential Management Team brings with it more than 22 years of hospitality and resort management know-how, as well as construction management, property sales, marketing and public relations - to name just a few.

This well-rounded formula ensures every phase of the resort's development is managed by the one experienced team.

Bob Lowres, Developer of Naisoso Island, says the appointment of this team will be integral to the Island's success, and in turn, will promote healthy tourism and jobs for the local community.

"The Naisoso Island Residential Management team will take on-site services to a new level," said Bob.

"Apart from the expected services of holiday and permanent letting and property maintenance, they will also offer unprecedented construction management, and house and land resales."

Naisoso Island Residential Management Team director Regan Berryman will personally oversee custom-built residential projects on the island, while his wife Nyssa, will control the marketing, sales, management and publicity of the residential precinct.

Regan will be working on the ground as a liaison and quality control officer, reporting to the owners to ensure their contracted builders are working to the highest standard.

Regan has extensive experience as a project manager in Australia and the UK, working on a number of projects from large-scale developments to villas and family homes.

Regan says this is a valuable service, which has never been offered during the development phase of a resort such as this in Fiji.

"I am passionate about maintaining a high standard to ensure that Naisoso Island, and the buildings on it, is an aesthetically beautiful and functional retreat-style island in which to live, holiday, work and play," Regan said.

His services include on-site supervision, programming, extensive weekly reports and liaison directly to the owners plus any dispute resolution and troubleshooting on site.

"Our service is offered to both residents in Fiji and international buyers," he said.

"This service will follow each project with quality control from the very start, until to completion.

Meanwhile Nyssa, who has a background of 10 years in PR and marketing, will promote and build the profile of Naisoso Island, whilst driving house and land sales.

"We will offer a professional and passionate sales approach to sell houses or land," Nyssa said.

"Living on the island gives us unmatched proficiency to ensure our service is second to none in all aspects of our responsibilities.

"We will oversee all areas of property maintenance including house cleaning, garden care, and sparkling pools to ensure our owners and clients are treated with five-star quality service.

"And we'll even stock the fridge, pantry, and bar for your arrival.

The owners can simply turn up and everything will be perfect, then just walk out and we will clean up," she said. "We'll even do their laundry."

The big toys will also be cherished, with car and boat maintenance included in the service.

The Naisoso Island Residential Management team will manage clean, test and detail boats and motor vehicles.

However, the island will also boast state of the art communications, with full wireless internet connections.

"This impressive offering has been well received so far, with more than 85% of the lots for the premium enclave already sold off the plan.

"As the majority of buyers have been from Australia or New Zealand, they are particularly keen on the holistic approach of residential management.

Having onsite managers who can look after your dream home literally from construction to the garden maintenance is unparalleled in Fiji, and we are very excited to be offering this service," concluded Regan.
